The Lodge Pole (or "Log Pole") style fence is composed of treated pine wood. The lodge pole fence allows for an open space fence with two or three rails. This fence is popular on ranch properties and for landscape architect projects or if a more rustic look is desired. Lodge Pole fencing really provides a warm mountainous feeling surrounding your yard. Little maintenance is needed on this type of fence and this fence provides the same look on both sides. Longevity for this type of fence is around 10 years.
